Sociology and Doing the Real World

- Sociology is all about studying the behaviors of individuals around you.
 - ① ex. Harrison haggle w/ customers - and each other - over good deals and bad.
- In sociology it happens everywhere
 - ② ex. families, reality shows, teachers, and etc.
- In our society today everyone is busy while some were not. Sometimes people aren't careful w/ how they behave in public.

Practical vs. Scientific Knowledge

- Social analysts asks questions to people by getting responses.
 - ① ex. "The everyday actor approaches his social world w/ what is referred as "recipe," or Practical knowledge" (Schutz, 1962).
- In psychology psychologists does scientific studies by gathering data. While sociology studies the behaviors of people around you.
